Description

Dear Business Partner,

We are pleased to announce that an exclusive promotional box is now available for our aluminum customers.

The promotional box contains an exclusive selection of innovative, high-quality products from the current Roto portfolio. It includes, among other things, hinges for OO windows, sealing systems, and glazing blocks, which exemplify the performance and quality of our solutions.

The goal of this campaign is to give our customers the opportunity to get to know selected Roto products firsthand and experience their benefits directly. Through this direct product experience, we aim to bring our innovative expertise to life and further strengthen confidence in the performance of our solutions.

As a reliable partner to the window and door industry, our goal is to offer our customers not only first-class products, but also comprehensive support and added value throughout the entire value chain. True to our guiding principle, "Our goal: to be the best partner for everyone," customer focus, quality, and collaborative partnerships are at the heart of everything we do.

The promotional box can be ordered at any time using the SAP part number and shipped to selected customers:

- SAP number: 2046532
- Current listed price: €120.00
- Availability: immediately

Thank you very much for your support in successfully placing our products!

“Sample boxes are a sales promotion tool and thus a key element of a sales presentation strategy.”
